

GLOBAL LEADERSHIP LAB

Innovative Solutions for Leading People with David Livermore, PhD

OVERVIEW

Use your next off-site to invest in your leaders' development while simultaneously working together to solve some of your most critical challenges leading people.

The Global Leadership Lab is a two-day leadership experience designed and led by David Livermore that will improve effectiveness for leading in today's digital, diverse world. It's a fun, interactive program that invests in your leaders, guides them through an evidence-based way of solving, complex people challenges, and provides them with a template for leading their teams through a similar process.

This is ideally done as an in-person, 2-day retreat but it can also be done as a series of virtual sessions. We will work directly with you to identify the primary people challenges you want to address.

BENEFITS FOR PARTICIPANTS

- An enhanced understanding of how to leverage strengths and leadership style for leading in a global environment
- A strategic foundation for how to create an inclusive, innovative culture
- A research-based model for designing inclusive, innovative solutions to complex people issues
- A methodology and template you can apply to developing innovative solutions to any people challenges in the future

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

This is not a death-by-PowerPoint leadership seminar. It's a highly interactive, two-day experience designed to invest in your leadership's development and to guide them through using a culturally intelligent, human-centered design approach to solving people challenges.

The Global Leadership Lab will cover the following topics:

1. Leading Yourself: Adapting your leadership style without losing yourself. This includes reflecting on your defining moments as a leader and your core strengths for leading others.
2. Leading Culture: Creating an inclusive, innovative culture for remote and in-person teams. This includes experientially working through five core habits for creating the culture you want.

3. Leading Innovation: Designing inclusive, innovative solutions to complex problems. This segment will include working on specific people challenges and collaboratively developing solutions to those challenges. This is a hands-on “workshopping” session.

FACILITATOR

Based on thirty years of leading globally and studying global leadership, David Livermore designed this two-day experience to ensure a lasting impact on your leaders effectiveness. David will be running this program and looks forward to a high level of direct interaction with the participants. Read David's full bio here.